CHRISTIAN NATIONALISM - CHOICES!

Original Air Date: 03.02.24

Segment.01 Hello. I'm Dr. Jerry Scheidbach, pastor of the Lighthouse Baptist Church in Santa Maria, CA—and your brain masseur—get ready for your brain massage.

We will continue our discussion on Christian nationalism. I want to work more on what it is, but first, let's consider the context in which this debate arises.

The acting President of the US is the most corrupt man ever to hold the office. He is a traitor who has sold out America to her enemies. His administration has made America weak economically and militarily, the laughing stock of nations, and more vulnerable than ever to foreign attack.

Biden's border policies have greatly facilitated human and drug trafficking — sex slavery and a plague of Fentanyl targeting our young. At the same time, Biden and his God-hating, America-despising supporters have allowed the CCP to infiltrate the equivalent of 7 divisions of military-aged Chinese nationals — that's like a giant Trojan Horse infiltrating 70,000 foreign troops into our nation. Because of the so-called Left, not only are we increasingly likely to enter into another world war, but that war will very likely be fought on our own soil, in our own neighborhoods, in our own streets.

Our Santa Maria lay here in a valley shadowed by Vandenberg Space Force Base. I'm becoming increasingly concerned about our security as the political heat steadily rises and the radical left becomes increasingly agitated. We've seen what violence the Demoncrats are willing to unleash on American cities¹: Atlanta, Seattle,² Portland, LA, to name a few. I am concerned that our airport be secured and under the guidance of someone who actually knows something about military preparedness and running an airport.

With our national security significantly compromised, our 2nd President-alleged is busy weaponizing government coercive power against his front-running political challenger. Like Hillary used the FISA court, the DOJ's FBI, and the CIA to construct the whole Russia-gate conspiracy against Trump — proved to be a lie — Biden carries on in that tradition — and the latest BOMBSHELL REPORT tells us Fulton Co. DA received a Biden operative tasked to pursue legal action against TRUMP.³ It was a setup from the beginning!

Christians are noticing all this — they are noticing what the non-Christians are doing to America, what America looks like in the hands of the people who despise Christianity. We see Illegal immigrants given Driver's Licenses and automatically signed up to vote in Georgia. Over 1000 were discovered receiving California Driver's Licenses.⁴

The environment in which the debate about Christian Nationalism rises includes Christians exposed to Democrat Senators, like Karen Berg, making statements about pedophiles being “minor-attracted persons”⁵ and encouraging everyone to believe it’s just another, you know, lifestyle or “born that way” thing — so we should give them dolls to play with!!??? At the same time, Libs of TikTok reports on an event promoting an all-ages drag show featuring a six-year-old drag queen.⁶

Christians bought into the idea that politics is a dirty business and, therefore, it’s not for Christians to get their hands in it. They were told you can’t legislate morality, and they believed it. So long as that did not directly touch them, they were content to sit on the sidelines and watch the freak show — but when it turned into a train wreck with their children on the train—that’s a different story.

Now we find the same people who told us you can’t legislate morality are mandating their immorality; they are making laws that require us to participate in their looney tune nonsense about genders—and we are personally affected by their economic and social policies. Our children are in danger, and the wicked will not live peacefully with us.

They pressed us to “live and let live,” so we did! And now that they have control, they won’t. Now Christians are arrested for praying outside abortion clinics and forced out of public chambers for reading the Bible, they are called domestic terrorists, and white Christians are accused of being racist because of the color of their skin while Christians of color (whatever that’s supposed to mean — I remember when if you called someone “colored” you were being racist — this is such nonsense). Still, if you are black and call yourself a Christian and, as a Christian, accept everyone, no matter the color, you are called an Uncle Tom, racist, or what-have-you!

We have not even begun to get into everything that is going on that is causing Christians to think they are being pushed out of society, ostracized, and targeted.

Christians who support Trump are listening when Biden tries to paint them as “white supremacists” and domestic terrorists. We are all watching the DOJ, and liberal courts do the double standard thing — the two-tiered justice thing — and we are smart enough to see that they are destroying the Constitution and wiping their feet on virtually every right our founders sacrificed to support that document securely.

We heard that journo from Politico say, aghast, what defines a Christian Nationalist is they believe their rights come from GOD and not from government or any human authority. And probably every Christian who heard that was shocked and said, well, yeah! Isn't that what the Declaration of Independence affirmed, and isn't that the essential principle of government of, by, and for the people?

Look, here is what I'm saying! Christians were willing to accept the proposition of live and let live. We don't relish getting into everybody's business. And there is considerable ambivalence about how far we take our unique Christian values and beliefs into the construction of laws universally imposed. But the generally shared values of life, liberty, and personal ownership of our labor and property that are common to all humanity — and issues of the natural order that arise from nature as GOD created it — to deny these things to us is to cross a line. And it has wakened Christians to realize they cannot stay out of politics. They can't stay out of politics because politics won't stay out of their lives and will necessarily encroach upon their rights inherent in nature and endowed to them by nature's GOD.

Bottom line — we let you guys take over the government, and you've used it to take away our fundamental rights. Well, you picked the fight! And now you are going to get the fight you picked.

When I say Christians ought to rule the world, it's precisely because when they do, your natural rights are secured. They don't tell you how to think, what to think, what you can or cannot say. They are the ones who came up with this Constitution and its Amendments in the first place. The separation of powers thing, all of it is rooted in Christian doctrine. I'll be preaching a series titled The Bible and the Bill of Rights in July. When Christians were involved in politics, we had a solid system of checks and balances and a commonly held set of shared values that united us. Since Christians became convinced they had nothing to say about politics and should butt out, for reasons too complicated to attempt here to relate, we did, in the main, butt out! Now look what a mess we are in!

The belief that it all belongs to Satan and we need to “wait our turn, which will come when Jesus comes” is partly the reason we've gotten to the place where this once Christian nation — and, by the way, even Obama admitted at least that we were once a Christian Nation — but now this once Christian nation has become openly hostile to Christianity.

Look, many who call themselves Christian aren't, and many who are are only too willing to go along to get along—they think Christianity is supposed to be nice, friendly, and non-judgmental! And that's it! Their role is to be supportive and kind! They see their role in the world as representing Jesus — but they don't know the Jesus they represent.

So now, if we Christians object to killing babies in the womb, we are called mean-spirited and unkind. If we bring attention to the atrocious procedure used to mutilate and evacuate the remains of a human baby from the mother's womb — we are told we are being unkind and “that's not Christian.” Suppose we point out the obvious injustice of a man entering female sports and brutalizing a female player senseless while playing aggressive Basketball, which happened recently. In that case, we are unkind, we are homophobic, and mean, not considering the feelings of the man who pretends to be a woman.

Christians are almost daily treated to some nonsense coming from that confused man who calls himself Rachel Levine and serves as Biden's Secretary of Health, who lately said children suffering gender dysphoria — a condition aggressively encouraged by many of their adult authority figures — he says these children should be taken from the homes of their parents and placed in homes where their sickness will be encouraged — their gender confusion will be affirmed.

We've seen what happens when you remove GOD from government, and it's not pretty. It's a disaster! Besides, when we remove God from government, invariably, the government begins to remove GOD from the governed. Government does not like competition! It will brook no authority greater than itself. Government without GOD become god! No government can be allowed to take GOD's place in our lives.

And that's why Christian nationalism began to form. Now, what form will it take?

Segment.02 Hello. Welcome back! I'm Dr. Jerry Scheidbach, pastor at the Lighthouse, your brain masseur, and Paul Revere's lantern lighter, lighting the lamps in the church belfry arch, signaling the enemy is on the march, an enemy that would steal from us our liberty.

I've got a bunch of selected links to articles on Christian nationalism for you in my show notes. Those of you who subscribe, and it's still free, by the way, will receive a link after each post that takes you directly to our website, where you have access to all our shows and all my show notes.

Michelle Goldberg is an opinion columnist for the New York Times. She wrote *Whose Version of Christian Nationalism Will Win in 2024?*⁷ She sees two sorts of Christian nationalism: one she describes as “the elite, doctrinaire variety.” She says this elite version is represented by DeSantis (Michelle wrote this in 2023 before DeSantis dropped from the race), and the other is the “violently messianic version embodied by Flynn and Trump.” [IBID] That’s General Flynn, by the way, who once served in the Trump administration as National Security Advisor.

How does Michelle define a “violently messianic version”? Well, it does not refer to rioters in the streets burning buildings or throwing Molotov cocktails into police cars. I’m going to guess that to Michelle, that was a “mostly peaceful demonstration.” What constitutes violence to her is radical support for Trump. As for her allegation that Flynn hangs with Hitler lovers and Jew haters — I’ll only point out the fact that I love the Jewish people even though I am wary of Soros, a Jew, and I support Israel even though I know some very powerful bankers who have instigated wars and rumors of them for their profits happen also to be Jews — we are fighting the same monied globalist cabal interests that wicked Hitler used to extend blame on all Jewish people in the same way these ridiculous Nazi’s today extend blame for slavery to everyone who is white.

I don’t care if Karl Schwab’s mother was Jewish, the fact that I love the Jews plays no role at all in my opinion of that odious man who, in his thick German accent, tells you “you vill own nothingk and be happy.” How’d I do? And if he and Soros and any number of other Globalists are of Jewish extraction — it makes no difference at all with regard to my estimation of the children of Abraham, or Israel, the apple of my Father’s eye. Judas was, after all, a Jew! Hitler hated all Jews because of what a few Judas types did to kill Christ.

⁷ 975.36.4-Opinion | Whose Version of Christian Nationalism Will Win in 2024? - The New York Times <https://www.nytimes.com/2023/05/15/opinion/christian-nationalism-election-2024.html?action=click&module=RelatedLinks&pgtype=Article>

Hitler was a monstrously evil man! His antisemitism has come to define him. The atrocity of his crimes against the Jews rises to the level of crimes against humanity itself!

But I don't hate Peter, a Jew, because he once hung out with Judas. As I have said to my son at least a thousand times — you take a man for how you find him and respect what God can make of him.

We are indeed fighting the globalists. Their ethnicity is irrelevant. Ask Soros! His ethnicity was entirely irrelevant to his decision to serve the Nazis during WWII. He was a traitor to his fellow humankind then, and he is a treacherous thief and murderer still. That changes nothing for me regarding my favorite Jew — Whose name is JESUS!

So, for the record, McKay, a colleague of Flynn and occasional speaker at Flynn's ReClaim America rallies, never proclaimed himself to be antisemitic or enamored of Hitler's antisemitism. But you see, this is how our enemy operates. Joe Biden can let fall from his perverse lips some of the most outrageous bigoted and racist statements, but people like Michelle Goldberg will never call him on it. At least that's my guess — tell me if I'm wrong, Michelle. I'll offer a retraction.

My point is what she calls militant Christian Nationalism: never pulled a gun on any police officer, burned down any public buildings or private businesses, graffitied police cars, or tried to run down and kill Kyle — remember Rittenhouse?⁸

Violence, as understood by people like Michelle, is a willingness to believe the overwhelming evidence that the 2020 election was stolen and that that steal involved foreign players, which provides for the invocation of Presidential Executive Order 13848⁹ which I think includes a provision for Martial Law — wait, no, it served as the basis for exercising the power in order to require a new election.¹⁰

So, anyway, the New York Times has conceded the next Republican President will be a Christian Nationalist, and the only remaining question is, what sort!

As for what is it, she apparently is of the opinion it involves imposing Christian values on the population. Isn't it odd how these people never stop to think that the REASON Christians are up in arms and pushing back is that the LEFT HAS BEEN IMPOSING THEIR VALUES ON US?

I've been saying this for years! When we no longer share a clear set of values in common, we will have to resolve disputes on some chosen set of values. The most reasonable would be traditional American values. Traditional American values ought by any bodies notion of right, prevail since the country was founded upon those values and within the context of those values. If there is a dispute, laws should be interpreted and applied in the context within which they were written. Original Intent! If a group of people want to create a system of governance on the basis of some other commonly shared values, they are free to do so. Go!

They keep threatening to leave, but they never do! I think I would be willing to support a GO FUND ME to provide moving expenses to any country in the world that will have them. If they want to climb into a space ship and to populate Mars, let them name their ship the Mayflower, and write their own Constitution, or Compact, or whatever they want to do. But they don't have any legitimate argument to say the Christians who founded this country as a safe haven for them and their posterity should forfeit their heritage.

So that's the context in which the debate on Christian Nationalism has risen into a national focus. They are trying to tell us we are not a Christian nation "anymore," and we are saying, well, I don't like what you are offering as an alternative, and, thank you very much, but we'll stay with the whole idea of ONE NATION UNDER GOD, and IN GOD WE TRUST, and, oh yeah, don't forget this one: ALL MEN ARE CREATED EQUAL AND ENDOWED BY THEIR CREATOR WITH CERTAIN INALIENABLE RIGHTS — and, I think we'll keep the whole innocent until proven guilty thing, and, let's see, yeah, I think we'll keep the Constitution too, the whole three branches thing, I think we sort of like that, when it's honored, by people who believe in TRUTH — and REALITY — put anything in the hands of wicked people and you get wicked results, it's really that simple. Let's see, oh yeah, I think we'll keep the Christian value system that framed the foundation upon which this nation was built and on which it rose to glory in all the earth.

Okay, so, as for me and my house, WE WILL STAY WITH TRUTH, JUSTICE, AND THE AMERICAN WAY OF OUR FOUNDING!
