THE “TRUMP” CARD IN A VERY DANGEROUS “CAME”! VENEZUELA
AND THE UNDECLARED WAR ON AMERICA!

Original Air Date: 12.06.25

Segment.01 Hello. I’m Dr. Jerry Scheidbach, pastor of the Lighthouse Baptist Church in Santa Maria, CA, and your brain masseur. Get ready for your brain massage.

Remembering is a good thing! We pause to remember Pearl Harbor Day, December 7, 1941. It was the day Japan delivered its declaration of War against America, and, as screenwriter Donald Sanford put into the mouth of Japanese Admiral Isoroku Yamamoto, awakened the sleeping giant and filled him with a terrible resolve.¹

Should we forget about this? Is it right to remember these pivots in history?

Maduro is the leader of Nimrod’s Cartel of the Suns, tasked with weaponizing drugs against the US. A whistleblower who was formerly a Venezuelan General (3-Star) and head of Intelligence for Hugo Chavez and Nicolas Maduro, spills the dancing beans!²

Prange, Gordon; Goldstein, Donald; Dillon, Katherine. At Dawn We Slept. (1981). – Comprehensive study of Pearl Harbor; the quote is not found in Yamamoto’s words. Peattie, Mark R.; Evans, David C. Kaigun: Strategy, Tactics, and Technology in the Imperial Japanese Navy, 1887–1941. (1997).

Who put this in the mouth of the Japanese Admiral? See Sanford, Donald S., screenplay for Tora! Tora! Tora! (1970).

DVD commentary, Tora! Tora! Tora! — the producers confirm the quote was written for the movie.

Venezuela launched an undeclared war on America—Remember Pearl Harbor?

I'm thinking this will probably cover the show today.

So, let me do a few touch-and-goes before we get started:

Newsome led California to spend $450 million to upgrade our 911 emergency technology and scrapped the whole thing because the new technology doesn't work.³ By the way, the $450 million has been collected from you through fees charged to you—Newsom can't run a Lemonade stand. What a loser! $100 million missing from FireAid (Roseanne Barr is suing this jerk, personally, for 100 million because his policies and refusal to allow water she purchased for protection of her home in Pallisades was refused.) He still has not accounted for the 100 BILLION from the High Speed Rail scam on the California and even federal tax payers — the $37 Billion he bilked us for the homeless and which went nowhere, the $40 Billion for affordable housing that did nothing, the $5 Billion for water storage he squandered, and the $500 million he wasted to stop the flow of raw sewage waste from Mexico! It might be a good idea to ship this guy to Venezuela so he can destroy an enemy country instead of our once golden state.

You know about Mark Kelly, right? They guy who joined the Seditious Six who called on US Troops to disobey the orders of their Commander in Chief? What's that! Yeah, that's what they did. The qualification that they disobey unlawful orders is stupid — all our troops already know that, they are taught that, and it's clearly stipulated in the Military Code of Justice — I remember that when I was in the Army! Everybody knows that. They did not specify what order they were talking about, but they've said plenty before and after — they especially don't like the US taking out these narco-terrorists from Venezuela! They never complained when Obama ordered a hit on an American citizen, Anwar al-Awlaki, targeted as an extremist Islamist, and Obama ordered him killed while the American citizen was abroad.⁴ Obama declared him a terrorist and ordered him killed. Not a peep from anyone on the Left. Oh well! I guess it's about who holds the trigger, not the target the gun is trained on.

I want these Seditious Six to weigh in on the al-Awlaki hit before they talk about Trump designating these Venezuelan Cartel drug runners as narco-terrorists and taking them out. Wait till you hear from the former Venezuelan General—they have weaponized drug running as part of their undeclared war on America.

Anyway, it turns out Kelly got over his skies: he criticized Hegseth for violating department rules after Hegseth discussed Yemen strikes in a Signal group chat. You see, that information was classified when he spoke about it in public. Looks like Kelly leaked classified information in his effort to accuse Hegseth of improper use of a group chat to discuss the Yemen strikes.⁵

ACT BLUE will be the subject of a comprehensive probe by the DOJ over allegations of widespread election fraud and illicit contributions—including foreign money getting into our elections.⁷

Okay, I'm ready. How about you? It's time for your Brain Massage®:
[TRUTH]

Should we keep pausing to remember Pearl Harbor Day every December 7? Franklin Roosevelt said it would be a day that went down in infamy: the day Japan delivered its declaration of War against America not through diplomatic channels, but by an unprovoked attack on our Harbor at Pearl.

Is it right to remember these pivots in history?

Remembering is important. Throughout the Bible, God calls us to remember.⁸ He often rehearses the history of His deliverance and His people's failure, almost always concluding with a reminder of His enduring mercy. Stephen recounted Israel's failures in Acts 7. Paul felt the prick of Stephen's message, which led to his conversion (Acts 9:5).

Peter was given a conscience-pricker. When Jesus warned Peter that he would deny Him three times, Peter rejected the prophecy, and at one point, he became vehement —incensed, and angry. But Jesus attached to His prophecy that Peter would deny Him a reminder that would follow Peter for the rest of his life: the morning cock-crow.

Imagine, every morning, Peter was reminded of his failure.

⁷ 1067.27.1-(4) WORLD NEWS on X_  ALERT_ American President Donald Trump has dropped a bombshell by ordering the Department of Justice to conduct a comprehensive probe into ActBlue—the Democratic Party's fundraising platform—over allegations of widesprea https://x.com/MAGA_NEWS/status/1996946550828728788?s=20

⁸ He declares His promise to remember His promises, but to forget our sins

That's one way to look at it. But here is another way. Peter would also be reminded of Jesus' grace and mercy, and his restoration to service. I'm sure it also served to remind Peter of his weakness and need to depend on the LORD. Remembering our failures is good for us—that is, if we learned from them.

Yes, we must remember Pearl Harbor as both a warning against this sort of evil, and a testimony to the grace of God who can make all things work together for good.⁹ America should remember God's grace in delivering us from the oppression of Imperial Japan. Japan should remember and acknowledge the grace of GOD upon America, and upon themselves also. He has restored Japan and elevated Japan to a place beloved among the nations.

Germany must not forget Auschwitz or Dachau, or the six million Jews who perished in Hitler's Final Solution! The whole world must remember what happened. We too must remember the price of giving place to the devil and be armed against Socialist fascism.

We must remember the Civil War, brought on us by the Democrats, and be armed against the Civil War the Demoncrats are trying to stir up right now.

Yes, we must REMEMBER there is evil in the world, and also remember the GOODNESS of God to "deliver us from evil."

Someone said, "If we don't learn from history, we are doomed to repeat it." Amen! So long as we REMEMBER its lessons.

Maduro is the illegitimate leader of Venezuela. Got in with SmartMatic magic. More in a moment. His chief appointed to run the Venezuelan Cartel put together by Chavez, and handed off to Maduro was Three Star General Hugo Carvajal Barrios— in charge of the Cartel of the Suns, and put in charge of the Venezuelan Department of Intelligence.

⁹ Romans 8:28 And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are the called according to his purpose.

Barrios was tasked with weaponizing drugs against the US.

A few days ago, he released a letter of confession and became a whistleblower, spilling the beans!¹⁰ He corroborates what we know from multiple sources: Venezuela launched an undeclared war on America—Remember Pearl Harbor?

THE FORMER HEAD OF VENEZUELA'S INTELLIGENCE FLIPS ON MADURO.

He was high up in the chain of command: Director of Military Intelligence and a Deputy in the National Assembly.

Today, Barrios is in prison here in America. He pleaded guilty to crimes, including narco-terrorism conspiracy.

Notice: Pam Bondi was not supportive of giving access to this guy. She dismissed him as having no intelligence value. The rumor is that her staff gave her this assessment—Todd Blanche has her ear.

Alex Jones, you know Alex from InfoWARS, interviewed Patrick Byrne, who was instrumental in getting the General's testimony and breaking this story.

In the interests of full disclosure, Patrick Byrne had a sort of Swalwell tryst with an unregistered foreign agent named Maria Butina.¹¹ It turned out she was a “Russian operative convicted of infiltrating U.S. conservative circles as an unregistered foreign agent.” At the same time, Byrne was assisting federal probes into Clinton Foundation issues as an informant. [IBID] He willingly disclosed the Russian spy matter and stepped down from Overstock.com. He continued in political activism, targeting fraudulent elections, and made connections with General Flynn, Mike Lindell, Sydney Powell, and other warriors for election integrity. Wrote some books, and stuff.

He testified that Barrios reached out to him to get his story out because he was being ignored. Byrne went through the proper channels to provide his own legal counsel to Barrios, but every effort was met with stonewalling and rejection. Byrne and his team was able to arrange for a paralegal to have access to Barrios, who interviewed him and offered to get his letter to President Trump.

We'll go over that letter together after the break. Hold on, I'll be right back!

Segment.02 Hello. Welcome back! I'm Dr. Jerry Scheidbach, pastor at the Lighthouse, your brain masseur, and Paul Revere's lantern lighter, lighting the lamps in the church belfry arch, signaling the enemy is on the march—an enemy that would steal from us our liberty.

Former Three Star General of Maduro's army, the officer in charge of Military Intelligence, and head of the Cartel of the Suns, including the Tren de Aragua gang, specifically tasked with undermining American culture and peace—has flipped and is revealing the truth about Chavez, Maduro, and their undeclared war on America. He wants to talk. We'll take a look at his letter.

Pam Bondi and Todd Blanch had no interest in Barrios' statement. The General reached out, and Patrick Byrne was ready to send him his lawyer to represent him. General Barrios was about to be sentenced, at which point Patrick said he would lose any incentive to give us anything. So, we (Patrick Byrne, his team, and his lawyer) thought we should contact Tulsi Gabbard to contact Pam Bondi to explain that there is this guy (The General) who is about to be sentenced on drug trafficking charges from 2011; he has national security information, and we need to interview him. Tulsi's people were briefed four times, but Tulsi was never told. About four days before the General was to be sentenced, Gary Bersten, retired CIA

Senior Operations Officer,¹² learned about this, made some noise that got Tulsi's attention, and she stepped in. Patrick Byrne says the DOJ blocked his team's access to this General. This involved Pam Bondi, Todd Blanch, and John Ratcliff.

Understand, their position was that this guy had no useful intelligence anyway. Anyway, Byrne and his team hired someone as a paralegal for $1 an hour to interview the General and prepare the transcript. General Carvajal wrote the following letter and it has been presented to President Trump.

Here is the letter:

United States of America

December 2, 2025

Dear Mr. President Trump and The People of the United States,

My name is Hugo Carvajal Barrios. For many years, I was a high-ranking member of the Venezuelan regime. I was a three-star general trusted by both Hugo Chávez and Nicolás Maduro and served as Director of Military Intelligence and a Deputy in the National Assembly. Today, I sit in an American prison because I voluntarily plead guilty to the crimes charged against me: a narco-terrorism conspiracy. I write to atone by telling the full truth so that the United States can protect itself from the dangers I witnessed for so many years.

I publicly broke with the Maduro regime in 2017 and fled my country, knowing that I face criminal charges in the United States. In doing so, I became their enemy. Knowing the risks, I acted with the strongest conviction to dismantle Maduro's criminal regime and bring freedom to my country. Today, I see the need to address the American people about the reality of what the Venezuelan regime truly is—and why President Trump’s policies are not only correct, but absolutely necessary to the United States’ national security.

1. Narco-Terrorism

I personally witnessed how Hugo Chavez’s government became a criminal organization that is now run by Nicolás Maduro, Diosdado Cabello, and other senior regime officials.

[ASIDE: Diosdado Cabello is now leading the Venezuelan Cartel operations.]

The GENERAL: “The purpose of this organization, now known as the Cartel of the Suns...

[ADIES: You will see an image of the sun on the shoulders of the Generals uniforms, it identifies them with the Cartel.]

THE GENERAL CONTINUES: The purpose of the Cartel, “is to weaponize drugs against the United States. The drugs that reached your cities through new routes were not accidents of corruption nor just the work of independent traffickers; they were deliberate policies coordinated by the Venezuelan regime against the United States.

This plan was suggested by the Cuban regime to Chávez in the mid-2000s and has been successfully executed with help from FARC [ASIDE: The Colombian Narco-Terrorists. The GENERAL CONTINUES:] “ELN, Cuban operatives, and Hezbollah. The regime has provided weapons, passports, and impunity for these terrorist organizations to operate freely from Venezuela against the United States.

2. Tren de Aragua

I was present when decisions were made to organize and weaponize criminal gangs across Venezuela to protect the regime—among them the group known as Tren de Aragua. Chávez ordered the recruitment of criminal leaders inside and outside prisons to defend “the revolution” in exchange for impunity. After Chávez died, Maduro expanded this strategy by exporting criminality and chaos abroad to target Venezuelan political exiles and artificially reduce crime statistics within Venezuela. Gang leaders were instructed to send thousands of members out of the country. This was coordinated through the Ministry of Interior, the Ministry of Prisons, the National Guard, and national police forces. Tren de Aragua became the most effective and fastest growing.

[SKIP: By the way, Patrick Byrne interjected that one of the men interviewing Cavajal was someone the gang was tasked to kill. Cavajal is being interviewed by a man he tried three times to assassinate.¹³ CIA is all in for regime change — but not regime change for Maduro.]

When the Biden–Harris open-border policy became widely known, they seized the opportunity to send these operatives into the United States. They now have obedient, armed personnel on American soil. To finance their operations, they were explicitly instructed to continue kidnapping, extorting, and killing. Every crime they commit on your soil is an act ordered by the regime.

3. Counterintelligence and Espionage Against the United States

I was present when Russian intelligence came to Caracas to propose to Hugo Chávez the tapping of submarine internet cables that connect most of South America and the Caribbean islands with the United States for the purpose of penetrating United States Government communications.

In 2015, I warned Maduro that allowing Russian intelligence to build and run a secret listening post on La Orchila Island would one day invite American bombs. He ignored me.

¹³ <https://x.com/RealAlexJones/status/1996736068377264533?s=20> at 11:49

For twenty years, the Venezuelan regime sent spies into your country—many are still there, some disguised as members of the Venezuelan opposition.

[ASIDE: We've got Venezuelan spies in our country, some from Cuba, working in our government. The GENERAL CONTINUES:]

“Cuban intelligence showed me their networks inside your naval bases on the East Coast. They bragged about having sent thousands of spies over decades, some now career politicians.

U.S. diplomats and CIA officers were paid to assist Chávez and Maduro in remaining in power. These Americans acted as spies for Cuba and Venezuela, and some remain active to this day.

4. Smartmatic and Your Elections

Smartmatic was born as an electoral tool of the Venezuelan regime but soon derived [I think he means developed] into a tool to help keep the regime stay in power forever. I know this because I placed the head of IT of the National Electoral Council (CNE) in his position, and he reported directly to me.

[ASIDE: This is exactly what Sydney Powell and Mike Lindell were telling us in 2020. Back to the GENERAL:]

“The Smartmatic system can be altered—this is a fact. This technology was later exported abroad, including to the United States. Regime operatives maintain relationships with election officials and voting-machine companies inside your country. I do not claim that every election is stolen, but I state with certainty that elections can be rigged with the software – and has been used to do so.

People of the United States, make no mistake about the threat posed by allowing a narco-terrorist organization to roam freely in the Caribbean and throughout Latin America, doing everything possible to harm the American people—to finance anti-Americanism across the continent, and to facilitate the operations of other terrorist organizations and enemies of the United States within Venezuela and now within your borders.

The regime I served is not merely hostile—it is at war with you, using drugs, gangs, espionage, and even your own democratic processes as weapons. President Trump’s policies against the Maduro criminal regime are not just justified, but necessary and proportionate to the threat. He may even be underestimating what the regime is prepared to do to hold onto power. They have contingency plans for every extreme scenario to ensure they never relinquish control.

I absolutely support President Trump’s policy towards Venezuela, because it is in self-defense, and he is acting based on the truth. I remain ready to provide additional details about these matters to the United States government.

The latest developments include Trump’s increasing pressure on Maduro to step down.

It’s been rumored that Maduro was going to step down, but backed out. At least that’s the rumor. We know that Trump had given him a “safe passage offer,” but Maduro let it expire. A Reuters headline says: “Trump rejected Maduro requests on call, options narrow for Venezuela leader, sources say.”¹⁴ I understand Maduro asked for amnesty and the lifting of sanctions, and Trump said, No deal.

Maduro proposed that his Vice President, Delcy Rodríguez, lead the interim government before new elections. Trump said no.

At present, Maduro’s administration seeks another call with Trump.

Russia and China have cut Venezuela loose — Putin said he would back Venezuela to the point of WWII, Trump called his bluff, and Putin folded. This is getting “real” friends.
