Okay, my friends, it's time for your Brain Massage®!

[TRUTH]

Neil Diamond turns 85. I found a social media post depicting Diamond at Fenway Park, aged, in a wheelchair, unable to finish his Boston-famous song, "Sweet Caroline," and the crowd picking up and finishing the song. Reminded me of an incident in Russia when one of my students was singing a hymn in the House of Prayer Baptist Church, attempting to sing it in Russian, but ran into trouble—it was awkward for a moment, then the entire congregation began singing the hymn, and he was able to join them—If I remember correctly, they sang it in English! It was very moving. Alas, however, this story is an embellished 2013 event. Diamond was in a wheelchair because of back surgery and, heroically, kept his engagement to appear at the famous Boston baseball park, as he had for some years, to sing "Sweet Caroline" after the eighth inning. I think the audience sang with him, and many audiences enjoyed doing on that song. So, the social media post is fan lore. The truth, however, is pretty cool. Even with Parkinsons, Diamond continues to shine!

[Get segment of Sweet Caroline!]

Don Lemon has been arrested. A Grand Jury indicted him and so the judge who tried to shield him from the reach of law got countermanded by a jury of peers, who heard the evidence and said, yeah, ya gotta arrest that dude.

Don Lemon's ridiculous claim is that the First Amendment guarantees the freedom to violate it! When did it happen that the First Amendment became primarily about freedom of the press? Might be a good idea to read it.

“Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances.”

How funny, “or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble.” The government has the responsibility to protect the “free exercise” of religion — if the Federal government refuses to protect the free exercise in the states and allows states to selectively decide whose religious liberty they will protect, it will be guilty of prohibiting free exercise and will be in violation of the Constitution.

What is the problem with Democrats and the rule of law? When did the First Amendment become the exclusive property of journalists?

Freedom of the press is not a superior right to freedom of religion, even though it is rooted in religious freedom, by the way. Besides, freedom of the press is about publishing and speaking; it's not about the public's right to barge into a public worship service and disrupt the activities of Christ's embassy. Jesus is the KING, all mankind are His subjects, the Church is His ekklesia, as Charlie Krik once pointed out, this is a political word that identifies a regularly convening body of persons appointed to conduct the business of a city-state for a term—that's the word Jesus chose to identify His assembly. He said, I will build my Ekklesia.

No one in Jesus' day would hear the word Ekklesia and think, “called out ones.” They would think of the political assembly appointed to conduct the city-state's political business. Let me ask you a question, when I say, automobile, do you think, self moving. No! You think of what that word was coined to identify, something we casually refer to as a car—because it's a cart, that carried cargo. The word automobile was coined because it's a cart that moves without being pulled by horses.

The CHURCH is the Ekklesia of the Kingdom of Jesus Christ, and it has real authority, or power in this world: it has the “keys of the kingdom,” and whatever it binds on earth is bound in heaven, and whatever it loses on earth is loosed in heaven. It has supernatural operating power to act in JESUS' NAME —

When Paul persecuted the church, Jesus took it personally. When a king named Herod touched the Church, Jesus rebuked the foolish king and finally killed him. Those foolish people who breached the embassy of KING JESUS are in serious trouble. They had better repent.

The civil government is under the ordaining authority of Christ (Romans 13:1-6). They had better enforce the laws that clearly prohibit interference with religious worship, or they are going to come under the scrutiny of His eyes as a flame of fire.

The arrogance of Don Lemon and Democrats to exalt the right of the press above the right to worship! You had better stand down, fella! You really don't want to go there. I suggest you make a public statement to the effect that you acknowledge the right of worship freely is at least equal to the right of a free press, that no “journalist” should ever be so arrogant as to exalt their right to cover a story above the right of Christ's disciples to gather in peaceful assembly and exercise their divine right to worship their creator without these ragers against the LORD and His anointed screaming and accusing, and demanding, using force and violent intimidation to force themselves into a House of GOD and disrupt Christians there to worship their Creator — stand down fella — you'd best kiss the SON lest He be angry!

What is a Journalist, anyway? As most of you know, Lemon was arrested in LA covering the Grammys — as if he is some journalist — did you this guy was fired from CNN, that he does not have “press credentials” of any kind. He made a deal with X that fell apart before it started—he is unemployed. He is no more a journalist than Nick Shirley. In fact, he is less of a journalist than Nick. As for the title, the term refers to anyone who creates a journal of information to share with others. Let's put it this way, if being a “journalist” means you work for a news agency, Don Lemon is not a journalist. If he can be an “Independent Journalist,” he has no more credibility to be called a journalist that does Nick Shirley, and even less.

Nick has a larger and more established audience than Lemon. He has also been exceedingly more effective and impactful than Lemon. Comparing Lemon to Shirley is like comparing a kid with a Lemonade stand to a local supermarket. I think Shirley has over 500k dedicated followers, and Lemon is doing well to get an audience of 50-60k. I don't care what metric you use, Shirley is having a real impact on his world, and Lemon is like some yapping dog that's more annoying than cute.

Get real! The entire group that made the decision to go into that church and disrupt the service should come out with a public apology for disrupting Jesus' church, and the leaders should be fined and jailed. And the greatest offender in this was Lemon. Of everyone involved in that business, he should have known better, and he should have told that crowd to stay on the street, don't go inside and harass anyone, don't block anyone's entry or departure, don't yell so loud as to disrupt their services, and have respect for their rights as you would have them respect yours. You have heard of that one, haven't you Lemon, the do unto others thing?

Globalism goes local! The loco locals trying to micromanage our lives are like COVID overreach on meth! Get a load of what's coming to your neighborhoods!

It's weird; I did a show recently on Trump breaking down Nimrod's Tower, busting up the Globalist agenda of the globalist elites. Now we've got C40 Cities Climate Leadership Group planning to advance the globalist agenda locally.

Restrictions recommended: limit meat consumption to ~16kg (560 oz) per person per year.¹ That's the equivalent of less than one 11-ounce steak per week, or less than one half-rack of ribs per week. I didn't say per day, I said per week. If you go to Mo's and enjoy a half rack of ribs, that's it. No more meat for you for the rest of the week. And, by the way, that's the "progressive target" meat consumption goal for 2030. The "ambitious target" for 2030 meat consumption is 0, nada, none — NO MEAT.

Here is what the Bible says: 1Timothy 4:1-3 "Now the Spirit speaketh expressly, that in the latter times some shall depart from the faith, giving heed to seducing spirits, and doctrines of devils; Speaking lies in hypocrisy; having their conscience seared with a hot iron." Well, okay, so what does that have to do with a spirit operating in the globalist children of disobedience? Keep reading:

“Forbidding to marry, and commanding to abstain from meats, which God hath created to be received with thanksgiving of them which believe and know the truth.”

Commanding to abstain from meats? Interesting! What’s that? No one is “commanding you to abstain from meats”? Right! And no one was mandating vaccines, and no one was mandating masks, and — wait! That’s right, they were. They didn’t start that way, but they very soon went that way.

They always start with a recommendation, and when you object or don’t play along, then they go to arresting you and forcing you into some isolation camp (Australia), or fire you from your job (medical people and soldiers), or ban you from their stores, or kick you off an American Airlines flight if you wear a Trump mask! (You can’t see me, but I’m grinning wryly.)

But that’s not all. These climate alarmists have a goal to restrict you to 8 new clothing items per person per year. Their ambitious goal is 3.² They want to reduce the number of vehicles to 190 per 1000 people, and that’s being generous. Their real objective is 0.³ You may have 1 short-haul return flight, defined as a total of 1500 km (approximately 932 miles) to and from a destination. Maybe if you ask nicely, you can have a one-way flight of 932 miles. Oh, and that’s only one trip per 2 years per person.⁴ For your electronic devices, such as laptops and mobile phones, you can replace them or purchase a new one once every 7 years.⁵

Now, raise your hand if you know none of this applies to Bill Gates! (Whoa! The wind generated by the massive raising of furious hands blew my hair into a fro.)

³ IBID. p. 86

⁴ IBID. p. 90

⁵ IBID. p. 94

Don't make the mistake of thinking this is some impossible scenario years away from implementation.

Oxford has implemented some C40 interventions (they call them interventions), such as ZEZ (Zero Emissions Zones), and they have committed to Zero Carbon emissions goals—their target to reach zero emissions is 2040.⁶ They have traffic filters on certain streets that require permits, limiting you to 100 passes per year for some and only 25 for others. If you exceed these limits, you get fined.

This is also a broad movement in the US: 35 of the 50 largest US cities have adopted local climate action plans, and they are taking the C40 recommendations seriously. Worldwide, almost 100 cities collaborate with the C40 Cities Climate Leadership Group, committed to cutting fossil fuel use in half by 2030.⁷

Many of these cities are actively considering implementing specific, draconian C40 interventions, while others are sympathetic to C40 Cities' overall goals.

Trump has broken the globalist tower! (See last show—Episode 1074.) In the same way Nimrod's first tower came down, and splintered the one world government into bits, where all the bits went and started implementing Nimrod's model of separating the people from their Creator and bringing them under an antichrist king, many are digging about in the rubble of the tower, trying to implement the globalist agenda in local municipalities.

The number one critical thing we must do to block the antichrist spirit from implementing Satan's oppressive enslavement of mankind is to secure election integrity.

Let's take a short break. I'll be right back!

Segment.02 Hello. Welcome back! I'm Dr. Jerry Scheidbach, pastor at the Lighthouse, your brain masseur, and Paul Revere's lantern lighter, lighting the lamps in the church belfry arch, signaling the enemy is on the march—an enemy that would steal from us our liberty.

Election Integrity news! The DOJ has sued Virginia to compel the release of its voter rolls. Virginia has to be sued by the Department of Justice to release their voting rolls because, what, they are still fighting the Civil War?

When it comes to Federal Elections, the Federal Government has a legitimate interest in policing elections for the people's federal officers, such as Congressional and Presidential elections. The Executive and Legislative Branches have a responsibility to intervene if there is any suspicion of State negligence in complying with Federal Election laws. Virginia must submit to the Supremacy Clause of the Constitution. Ever read the supremacy clause? No! Well, let's fix that!

“This Constitution, and the Laws of the United States which shall be made in Pursuance thereof; and all Treaties made, or which shall be made, under the Authority of the United States, shall be the supreme Law of the Land; and the Judges in every State shall be bound thereby, any Thing in the Constitution or Laws of any State to the Contrary notwithstanding.”

And while we are on the issue of treaties, Gavin Newsom should be arrested and brought to trial for ignoring President Trump's action to pull us out of the World Health Organization for failure to honor his office and decision to pull us out of that wicked, rights-devouring, liberty-compromising organization. Gavin cannot hold California within an international organization in direct defiance of and contradiction to the actions of the Executive Branch—another supremacy clause violation.

Back in 2024, it seems like a century has passed: Judicial Watch entered suit against Oregon over its failure to properly manage its voter rolls in accordance with federal and state law. The state's effort to have the case dismissed failed, and the ongoing litigation was joined by the Public Interest Legal Foundation, and the DOJ began showing interest in the case after the November 2024 election brought a New Sheriff into DC. All of this prompted Oregon's Secretary of State to announce in January 2026 that they would resume the lawful mandate to remove all inactive voters from their rolls—Oregon is clearing out 800,000 inactive names.⁸

Judicial Watch efforts have contributed to the clean up of over five million “dirty voter names” from voter rolls, but there are 24 million names to go.⁹

Remember Lindell, the pillow guy? He has spent 100 million dollars fighting Dominion since the 2020 election. Dominion has been sold to a new owner; it's now called Liberty Voting! From Dominion, to Liberty! That's interesting. Part of the purchase agreement required Dominion to settle all lawsuits, and they were able to get everyone to accept a deal: Dominion offers to drop the suit against you, so long as you promise to never talk about Dominion voting machines in the future. They all settled! Lindell was approached with the same offer; he said, pound sand. They've hammered him the hardest; it has cost him 100 million to defend himself.

Here's a deal for you, Dominion—pay Lindell 200,000,000, and he does not have to forfeit his free speech rights! Oh, and by the way, Maduro is going to squeal like a stuck pig! What do you bet? What are the odds in Las Vegas on Maduro blowing the whistle on how he stole Venezuela with the Dominion system? Well, we'll see! That is, unless they Jeffery Epstein him—yeah, I don't know what went down on that, but it still looks a bit too slick and convenient for me, and I'm still trying to get my head around how this guy snapped his own neck Smartmatic, I understand, runs the same code used by Dominion, and it sued Fox News and Giuliani over what Tucker and Giuliani said about their role in the 2020 election theft. Not so smart-matic has lately been indicted in a foreign bribery case.^{10 11} The charges are based on the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act.

What do you say about the prediction that they'll fall on the sword or they'll be pushed onto it to protect against the exposure of the 2020 election fraud? Well, we'll see!

Remember the Dominion guy named Coomer? Patrick Byrne called him out on some of this Dominion Executive's statements, personally vowing to personally see to it that Trump did not win the 2020 Presidential election. He did not like being exposed for this and sued Byrne. The latest development in that case is that Coomer's lawyer put forward a motion to suppress or at least to significantly limit any questions to Coomer relating to his conversations with officials and representatives of Serbia, China, and Venezuela — yeah, these three especially — and when the Judge dismissed the motion to suppress, Coomer's attorney lost it, yeah, he assaulted Byrne's attorney. Well, what do you say about that?

¹⁰ 1075.27.4-ELECTION Southern District of Florida _ Voting Machine Company Charged in Philippine Bribery and Money Laundering Scheme _ United States Department of Justice <https://www.justice.gov/usao-sdfl/pr/voting-machine-company-charged-philippine-bribery-and-money-laundering-scheme>

So, it turns out that Coomer admitted, under oath, that he did have conversations with foreign countries. He admitted to discussing Dominion's equipment capabilities and vote adjudication software — remember that? That's about the business of allowing an election worker to review digital images of ballots flagged for “unclear voter intent,” allowing the reviewer to “resolve” voter intent and make corrections on the ballot.¹² Now, why do you suppose a foreign dictator, like Maduro, or his team of thugs, would be interested in that feature? He also admitted to discussing election system code and programming! Getting pretty close to moving into proprietary issues—not the sort of thing that would make sense to a layman, unless you were talking about the neat stuff the programming allows the machines to do for you. Of course, this does not constitute an admission of wrongdoing.

It's sort of like the bit about the machines cannot be connected to the Internet until it was proved they can, and are, and were, then it's admitted, well, in fact they can, and were, but we didn't cheat, and you can't prove we cheated just because we could have.

Yeah, it's like that!

And, you probably already know that the FBI executed a search warrant at Fulton County Elections and Operations Hub, near Atlanta, on January 28, 2026. Kash reported that a federal judge reviewed the evidence and found probable cause to issue the warrant. The FBI took about 700 boxes containing original 2020 ballots, tabulator tapes from the machines, voting images, rolls, and other documents. What is particularly curious is Tulsi Gabbard's presence at the scene. DNI involvement in a domestic law enforcement action significantly increased interest in this.

¹² 1075.27.6-Dominion voting software can permit staff to manually adjust ballot returns during counting process _ Just The News <https://justthenews.com/politics-policy/elections/dominion-voting-machines-can-permit-staff-manually-adjust-ballot-results>

But it's the reaction of the Fulton County officials that is totally unsurprising to me: They became hostile, calling it "political theater," "retribution," and an attempt to "undermine trust in elections." No, dismissing the Republicans on a bogus emergency claim and then pulling boxes of ballots from under tables that were hidden by table coverings, oh, and images of workers running the same ballots through the machines multiple times — that's the sort of thing that undermines trust in elections.

That, and the fact that in January 2025, voting rights activist Stacey Abrams, a prominent figure in the Democratic Party, who served in the Georgia House of Representatives and ran for Governor of Georgia, was accused of campaign finance violations dating back to 2018, and she settled by admitting to 16 violations and paying a $300,000 fine. I understand that's a record!

She is a subject of interest in ongoing investigations into election fraud. So, she is up to her neck in election fraud, and we'll have to wait and see if any further issues develop for her.

Gotta begin the wrap! Is this the Domino theory in reverse? Trump broke the grip of the creator of Communism Karl Marx, over Venezuela, and now turns his attention to Cuba, where that gorilla holds the people in a chokehold of oppression. Trump signed an Executive Order declaring Cuba an "unusual and extraordinary threat" to the U.S. national security.¹³ He has imposed tariffs on countries that supply oil to

¹³ <https://x.com/EricLDaugh/status/2017019428626407568?s=20> 1075.27.1-Trump orders tariffs on countries supplying oil to Cuba, declares national emergency https://abc3340.com/news/nation-world/trump-orders-tariffs-on-countries-supplying-oil-to-cuba-declares-national-emergency-commerce-state-treasury-homeland-security-venezuela-maduro-capture?utm_source=chatgpt.com

Cuba—Venezuela was practically Cuba's only source for oil! The operative word there is was. The President has already barred any shipments of oil to Cuba from Venezuela, and he has talked about blockading all shipments of oil to Cuba.

As for Iran, will China and Russia join Iran in joint military exercises with a massive US Armada massing in the region? Iran has begun rebuilding damaged nuclear facilities, going deeper underground this time. No uranium enrichment discovered, but capacity is being quickly restored. Iran has deployed what are called "fast-attack vessels near US assets—and, I repeat, they are planning live-fire exercises in the Strait of Hormuz Feb. 1-2, and there is talk of a possibility that China and Russia will join in the exercises. This is believed to be an intended deterrent to any action by the US against Iran. Folks, it not gotten any closer to a major war in my lifetime, and I was old enough to be aware of what was going down during the Cuban missile crises under Kennedy.
